Dear Parents/ Carers,

RE: Y11 Revision

We are now very much in the business end of Year 11 and every day counts.

The next few weeks present a real opportunity for students to consolidate what they know and secure the grades they are capable of. Over the past two days students have taken part in our in-school revision days and they have responded brilliantly. It has been excellent to see so many approaching the sessions with maturity and focus. With just three weeks remaining until the end of this term, we want to make sure families have access to the key materials and resources that can support revision at home. We know that the best outcomes in the summer come from a combination of what students do, what we do in school, and the support and encouragement they receive at home. When all three work together it makes a real difference.

With that in mind, please find below a QR code which links to our Year 11 Revision Padlet. This is packed with subject resources, revision materials and useful links that students can use when revising. It is also a helpful place to direct them if you hear the familiar line, "I don't know where to find anything to revise." Alongside this, students should already have the Fundamentals Guide that was shared at Parents Evening. Between the guide and the online resources, there is a wealth of material available to help them revise effectively.

Finally, a quick reminder for students that they should now be on Day 70 of the 100 Days of Maths revision booklet! A little and often approach really does make a difference, and building that routine now will pay off over the coming weeks.

Thank you, as always, for your continued support. Encouragement at home, alongside the work students are doing in school, plays a significant role in helping them stay focused and confident as the examinations approach.

With best wishes,
